

WOULD YOU SAY YES AGAIN?

Ten years into their marriage, Tomás and Leonor have built a life that works: a home, a son, shared routines, and a silence neither knows how to name. Then the Renewal Program asks them to choose again. Renew. Renegotiate. Separate. End. As the deadline approaches, every kindness begins to look like a campaign, every sacrifice becomes evidence, and the possibility of another life starts to feel dangerously real.

Knowing everything you know now, would you still choose the same person?
